

Twisting Mokume

Schedule (all times Pacific)

Day 1

10-12 noon – Intro and main demo

- Short slide show on mokume – mokume explained, history of mokume
- Twist patterning examples and overview of process.
- Overview of kit, and other source for blank mokume.
- Step-by-step – simple twist cuff bracelet.

12 noon – 1pm lunch break – I will be off the Zoom meeting, but you are welcome to stay on; bring your lunch to the screen and chat with your classmates. Or just get to work, whatever is best for you!

1pm-3pm work time – I’ll be back on-screen to work alongside you and answer your questions as they come up. Whenever you’d like me to have a look at your piece, please take a photo of it and text to me – this will be much clearer than holding your piece in front of your screen. (619) 488-7540

3pm-4pm – Wrap-up

- How did it go, and troubleshooting.
- Step-by-step – star pattern.

“Homework” – Work as late as you like! Then please text me photos of your work in progress so I can share them with class tomorrow.

Day 2

10am-12noon –

- Show of photos from yesterday, troubleshooting, questions.
- A bit about ring-making (and the problems with high-copper alloys).
- Step-by-step – Mizu pattern
- Using Baldwin’s patina.

12 noon – 1pm lunch break (as above)

1pm-3pm work time (as above)

3pm-4pm – wrap-up

- How did it go, troubleshooting, show of photos submitted, questions.
- Where to go from here - challenge of twist patterns – make something unique.
- Raffle!

The resource page with links to materials, handouts, and videos of our 2 days of class will be accessible to you for the next 30 days. We’d love to post images of your work there and on social media too– please send images via text or email. Thanks so much for being part of the class!
